

Reading for Pleasure

The school continues to invest in its facilities internally and externally to create an environment where children can learn not only during lessons but also during break time and lunchtime. The new library is timetabled for classes to access and also for parents that come into read with their child. Children can choose to play on the yard or access the Library at lunchtime if they wish, with the support of Mrs Brown.

A new sheltered seating area and stage has been constructed on the school playground that can be used before school, during playtimes and as an outside classroom for reading, drama and circle time activities. A box of books for all ages is located within the seating area to promote reading for pleasure
