

Children are combining the Space and Electricity topics and trying to make their own space game with electric spinners. Children have researched current games and designed their own games. They have been challenged to make a game that is not merely a roll and spin game, if they can.

